

HOW DOES YOUR ORGANIZATION SUPPORT & ELEVATE WOMEN?

Companies must make a significant investment in building a more flexible, empathetic workplace in order to regain, retain, and promote women. (McKinsey, 2020)

SUPPORTING & ELEVATING WOMEN IN THE WORKFORCE

Anne Shoemaker & Associates offers certified, credentialed, and proven executive coaching and workshop leadership to women professionals in an effort to reduce the devastating gender inequality experienced in all sectors of the economy.

As Workshop Facilitators

We gather women to tackle meaningful issues so that participants leave with the insights, confidence, and momentum necessary to make impactful changes.

Past workshops include:

- Communication Hacks: Making the Ask & Navigating the Response
- Networking for Success (Introverts Included!)
- Burnout, Balance, and Beyond: Self-Management & Organizational Pathways to Work-Life Wellbeing
- Uncovering Emotional Intelligence: Identifying & Developing the Leadership 'It' Factor
- Accelerating Your Career - A Fair Play Approach
- and more!

As Group Coaches

Group coaching brings together a diversity of perspectives, leading to rich discussions and insights. The shared learning dynamic can accelerate personal and professional development through the sharing of goals, progress, and setbacks in a supportive environment. Group coaching offers a cost-effective, low-risk opportunity to practice the interpersonal and communication skills essential to enhance individuals' leadership capabilities.

As Leadership Coaches

We engage clients in a thought-provoking and creative process that inspires them to maximize their personal and professional potential. Clients often seek help with:

- navigating systemic barriers
- overcoming limiting beliefs/imposter syndrome
- developing confidence
- developing assertiveness
- communicating clearly
- promotion preparedness
- 30-60-90 day plans for success in a new position
- establishing healthy work-life boundaries
- time management/productivity
